To: Chief I.C. & P.S.

1. I heartily dislike the loose use of intelligence as an adjective. I therefore suggest that sub par (a) could usefully be changed to read: "(a) Stimulate and guide the program for the current collection of ~~current~~ information bearing on medical intelligence."

2. Since this is covering the whole of medical intelligence there should be some reference to the assignment of Basic Medical Intelligence as a production responsibility of the Surgeon General of the Army (or to some one else if that is to be changed).

3. Paragraph (c) if it means what it says certainly would route info. in a circuitous path. However it may work as written because it would make O.S.I. a disseminator (vice O.C.D). O.C.I. discourages Office dissemination.

4. In order to clarify allegiance, the "their" of par (d) should be changed to "the" [illegible] "service" between "respective" and "intelligence".
